Peer Review

"Peer review" is the ability of golfers to gain an understanding of a player's potential ability and to form a reasonable basis for supporting or disputing a score that has been posted.

Okay.....so I am working on my motorcycle monitoring the speed of oncoming traffic. I initiate a stop on an individual exceeding the speed limit. It was a nice beautiful morning and I was wondering why I was working and not golfing. The guy has every excuse in the book but I proceed to issue him a well deserved citation. While completing the necessary paperwork, an epiphany occurred. I wonder if anybody in the golf association is trying to speed through the year and not post their scores or by chance just forgotten to post their scores?

So, I have attached a report which includes the membership of the SPGA and how many rounds they have posted. This does include members who keep their GHIN at other courses.

According to my calculations. . . . We have had 4 matches, The Home Course, Gold Mountain, Legion Memorial, and Druids. We have played the Memorial at Jefferson Park. So say if you played in those, you should have 5 rounds posted.....I know that my schedule doesn't allow me to get out as often as I would like so that is why my number of rounds posted is low. 🍷

So what I am asking.....peruse the report at your leisure. Take a look at how many rounds you have posted. Then, take a look at how many rounds your friends have posted. If by chance you see a discrepancy....calmly call the person and discuss it. In other words....if you see someone who you believe has played more golf than showing. . . "CALL THEM ON IT".

Golf is a game of honor and integrity. POST YOUR SCORES!
